AREAS OF FOCUS

You have a great horoscope and great potentials and you are destined to go very high in your career.

The only real area for you to be aware is your close relationships where you can appear cold at times.

For example, this could be your husband, in laws, your children, your parents, siblings, etc. You also have a great positive side, but some people may not see that. Friends and relationships that are not very close may only see your positive sides. But, you do have the ability to manage your relationships and you will become better at this as you grow older.

- In close relationships, you may get easily hurt. Your emotions may go in extremes - either you may love somebody whole heartedly or completely shut down emotionally and be too critical. You should be careful that you do not become too cold to some people. Good news is you have the ability to control your emotions properly and perform your work as your duty especially when you grow older, but you need to be conscious about this. This may partially because it may be hard for you to trust some people especially if they have become a source of hurt in the past. You need to forget the past, and move on with your life as there are a lot of things that you can achieve and not slow down because of your past or emotions.

- Sometimes, you may have fixed views that you will not change easily. You may not like to be told.
- You need to make sure that you have a balance between work and life. You should take time off for yourself, so that you get time to relax and enjoy. This is because you may have a tendency to sacrifice your pleasure and just work!
- Because very close relationships are an area of concern, you need to make sure that if you are doing a business with a partner then you should maintain a formal relationship and not go too close emotionally.
- You need to make sure that you give enough time and love to your children so that they grow up seeing your cheerful and active side. It is possible that on the name of discipline or for some other reasons you may become too strict to them and they see mostly your cold side.
